BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Miss Julia Barrett is visiting friends in Portland.

Rev. F. H. Balch is lecturing in Eastern Oregon.

Several Dalles people are camped at the forks of the river.

Mr. C. P. Heald visited The Dalles Tuesday on a business trip.

About twenty men are putting the hewed logs of the Glacier hotel in place.

Mr. S. F. Blythe who is foreman in the World office is again home recuperating.

Mr. J. N. Reynolds is putting up a neat residence on the hill the other side of Hood river.

Rev. Troy Shelly, will preach at the school house here Sunday the 16th inst. at 11 o'clock A. M.

Dr. Van Horn piano tuner of Portland was in town last week, and will make us another visit soon.

Mr. E. L. Smith has just finished a shed addition to the store building occupied by Blowers & Son.

Mr. B. Hull purchased a fine buggy last week and seems to be getting whole lots of comfort out of it.

Mr. Prather has shipped on an average 25 crates of strawberries a day, during the present season.

Services are held at the Congregational church every other Sunday. Rev. Frederick Balch Pastor.

Geo. Prather has a new buggy and new horse both black and now rides out in the morning. (not mourning.)

The public school is still running with 30 pupils in attendance, quite a large number for so late in the season.

Mr. C. Wells has completed his residence the other side of Hood river and will move his family into it next week.

Olinger & Bone have as many as 30 horses in their stable most of the time. This of course includes transient teams.

The Misses Jameison came up from East Portland last Saturday to spend the summer on their ranch two miles south of town.

S. J. La France, Tuesday sold to G. H. Palmer a fine Cottage organ, and it was sent over the river to White Salmon Wednesday.

Mr. H. Henn our night operator is in charge of the office at Bonneville temporarily, and Mr. Thompson of Portland is filling his place here.

Mr. Johnson, proprietor of the nursery at Astoria with two friends from California went up to Lost lake on a botanizing expedition last Monday.

Mr. T. R. Coon has shipped so far this season 125 crates of Clarks seedling strawberries, all in the very best condition and the very best quality too.

The horses for the Mt. Hood stage line arrived here last Sunday and were taken to their stations along the line by Mr. S. H. Adams, who has charge of the line.

Rev. A. J. Barrett, the celebrated divine of Rochester New York, and his wife accompanied by Dr. P. G. Barrett and wife, of this place, were at the glaciers last week.

Mr. William Booreman, Wednesday evening sold to Mr. Prather, fourteen crates of berries that were as fine as we ever saw. They were large, bright red in color, and of splendid flavor.

The post office here is the distributing office for Straitsburg this county, for Chemoweth Skamania county and White Salmon, Glimmer, Fulda, Trout Lake, and Glenwood Klickitat County W. T.

R. D. McCully, deputy sheriff of Klickitat county passed down on the train Wednesday with an insane man he was taking to the asylum.

Joseph Wilson left yesterday for the Elk-beds about five miles this side of the summit, to survey a lot of pasture land for the Mt. Hood stage company.

Messrs. Ladd & Wood on their recent visit instructed their foreman to hire every available team in the valley to work in getting material on the ground for the hotel and in improving and beautifying the grounds. The hotel will be finished and ready to receive guests by the 1st of July, but it will make every body hustle to accomplish it.

Mr. Robert Rand is laying the foundation for a barn on his lots fronting on Second street near Oak. The building will be put up at once and will be 30 by 50 feet.

Both of Hood River's churches are outside of the present town limits being about three miles distant, but there is a chance for the town to grow and take them both in.

A magic lantern exhibition was given at the Congregational church Monday evening by T. J. Hosford and Son. They also gave an exhibition at Mosier Wednesday evening.

There will be an ice cream and strawberry festival at the M. E. camp ground this evening. All are invited and every effort will be made to make the affair an enjoyable one.

The Mt. Hood stage company's bridge at the crossing of the East Fork will be completed tonight. This is the north end of the company's toll road. The Stranahan Bros. and Berdan built the bridge.

Last week A. J. Rand brought in 40 pounds of trout from Lost lake the product of two hours fishing of himself and another. The trout average from 8 to 15 inches in length, and are beauties.

Robert Gray who was badly hurt by being struck in the back with a lumber pick at Eccles & Co's mill two weeks ago, is recovering rapidly and we are glad to state will soon be able to go to work again.

Mr. Frank Button who is engaged in the lumber business at La-Crosse Wisconsin, went up to Lost lake Tuesday morning with A. J. Rand to look at the timber, catch fish—and conclude to stay with us.

Messrs. Winans & Oiler are building the ferry boat to ply between here and White Salmon. It will be 40 feet long, 12 feet beam and three feet depth of hold. They are pushing the work as fast as possible.

Messrs. McEachern & McLeod of The Dalles purchased block 7 in Parkhurst, last week. It is a fine building site, and leaves only blocks 1, 11 and 12, and lots 2, 3 and 4, of block 4 unsold, of the entire 40 acre tract.

W. E. Neff is kept busy shoeing horses. Monday he nailed on 34 shoes and placed 82 in a little over two days, besides doing other work. This item conveys a slight idea of the amount of travel in this section.

The justly celebrated Jewett Nurseries are situated across the river from this point. The trees and vines sent from it are selected carefully and the buyer can depend on getting the fruit and variety he orders.

The base ball club met last Saturday for practice up in Pleasant View. The ground is the best in the state and the club may be if they practice enough. As it is they are ready to meet the clubs of our neighboring towns.

The Underwood brothers who live across the river below White Salmon have one of the best ranches in this vicinity and they have it well improved too. The timber near them is as fine as can be found anywhere.

When the Ladd party were coming in from the glaciers last week they ran across a big deer in the road, which was too fat and lazy to get frightened, and after a few leaps stopped and took a good look at the invaders of his country.

If there is a town in the state that has better water than we have we would like to hear from it. Our supply is brought from a splendid spring on Captain Coe's place and is both good and cheap, being furnished for $1.50 per month.

During the week strawberries took a tumble to themselves, going down to six cents a box, but Portland has quit shipping and the price has already commenced to advance. The late berries will bring almost as much per box as the early ones.

Rev. A. J. Barrett of Rochester New York, will preach at the Methodist church tomorrow, Sunday at 11 o'clock. Mr. Barrett is a very talented man and those who attend the services will hear a sermon such as is seldom preached in so new a country.

The ladies of the relief corps, G. A. R., gave a strawberry and ice cream festival Saturday night, under the big oaks on Second street below the postoffice. The night was beautiful and the occasion a delightful one. The amount realized was $25.20.

Quarterly meeting at the Methodist church last Sunday, morning and evening. Elder Booth conducting the services which were well attended. Services are held in this church every other Sunday morning and evening. Rev. Lee Johnson Pastor.

Hon. F. L. Smith and wife went down to the Cascades Thursday to meet their old friends Mr. A. T. Dewy and wife of San Francisco, returning on the boat in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Dewy made a too brief stay taking their departure yesterday. He is a member of the Publishing house of Dewy & Co. of San Francisco.

Grover, Geo. Prathers light weight canine, is the most popular dog in the town limits. He is too small to pull a can, or even to be visible in front of it; consequently pursues the even tenor of his way unmolested. A small brown spot on his back at first sight makes him look like he had a special delivery stamp on, and suggests the propriety of pasting on another and making a suit of clothes for him.

Mr. M. C. Evans has shipped up to date about 120 crates of berries, mostly Clark's seedlings, and he has probably sixty crates more. This is the first year he has shipped any berries, and next year he will rise'em Riley—He presented Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rand each a box of berries Wednesday picked, each box, from one vine planted last November.

Thursday of last week Messrs. Ladd & Wood accompanied by Mr. Whidden, the architect of the hotel went out to the glaciers behind one of Olinger & Bone's fine teams. They marked off the foundation of the building, and surveyed a line for the waterpipes which will start from an ice cold spring just below the glaciers. They instructed their foreman to have the building done, by July 1st, no matter what the cost might be, and it is a safe bet the work will be done.

Match Game of Base-ball.

The Cascade and Hood River base-ball clubs will cross bats on the grounds here on the 16th. The game will be called at 1 o'clock. The boys are not practicing as hilariously as they might, and if they are not careful their scaps will float in the wild breeze of the Columbia gorge.

Youthful Ideas.

A four-year-old of this place, with a laudable desire for information the other day inquired of his father; "who was the first man?" Being answered he got in a poser by asking "who was the last man?" The father was too much bewildered to answer, "Grover Cleveland," so gave it up. On another occasion the same precocious youngster found some gun wads, and in order to prevent the baby from getting them said: "Sister baby, don't touch them they will shoot you to h—l."
